

Avondale Qvevri

Code AVON405

Avondale is the first in South Africa to utilise Qvevri in their winemaking. These ancient clay vessels from the country Georgia dating back over 8000 years allow the wine to breathe as it ferments. As it ages in the clay it brings a beautiful brightness of fruit and minerality to the wine. The Qvevri fits into Avondale's slow winemaking philosophy and in this light characterful wine you will experience the unbridled grape flavour of our wines.

Tasting Notes:

A mélange of succulent red fruit - raspberry, mulberry, strawberry with violets and spice. Overlaid with the unmistakable minerality and earthiness from the Qvevri on the nose. This follows through on the palate with a bright natural acidity giving a wonderful freshness and drinkability to the wine. The wine has a great balance between the fine tannins of the whole bunch, bright natural acidity, abundance of fruit, earthiness that sparks an interest and intrigue in the flavour and finish of the wine.

Vinification The grapes were harvested between 22° and 23°B; The varieties were vinified separately; Destermed Grenache and whole bunch Syrah and Mourvêdre were placed in the Qverti, The wine was punched down daily during fermentation and left on the skins for 1-3 months, before a light pressing took place; The wine was then aged in the Qverti for a year. In February 2020 the wines were removed from the Qverti blended and bottled.
